WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY

MORGANTOWN

A university is many things to many people. At West Virginia University the meaning is made more significant to us because we are part of the whole. Here amid the silence of Woodburn Circle and the noise of the field house and the stadium the students and the faculty make up the spirit of our University. It is a spirit that seeks knowledge in all things and is quick to adjust to the fast-moving pace of our society.

To show you of what our University consists, this yearbook will attempt to give you a picture of the study, work, play, and honor that is so much a part of any university. Come, watch, turn the page and see one year of a student's life, a year of West Virginia University.

What is a University...

Education

Administration

Research

Development

Advisor-student conferences are an essential part of planning and carrying out one's education.

The large class is becoming more and more common in the plan for educating students of today. West Virginia University is no exception.

Physical fitness, one aspect of the University's program, is essential to our future well-being.

Education

Education is the process through which minds are formed so that as this procedure continues the individual becomes more and more able to adjust to the world.

West Virginia University is only one part of this process, but it is here that many of the tools of the mind are strengthened and made ready for what comes later.

In this environment we learn from all with which we come into contact; parties, classes, coffee breaks at the 'Lair, and Cheat Lake in the spring. These plus many other elements make up the vast parts of the process of obtaining an education.

To educate those who will receive it is the purpose of West Virginia University. This is the process of education at our University.

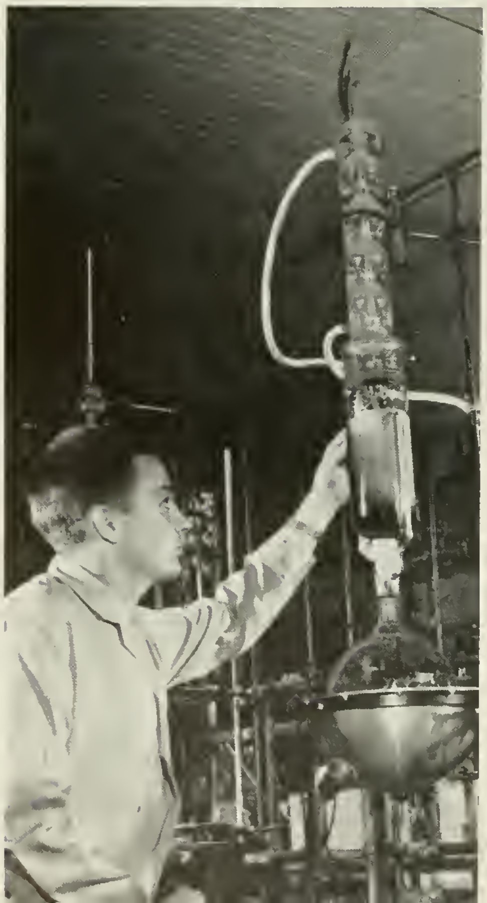
The student not only learns by listening, but by demonstrating his knowledge and understanding to others, as is shown by this student at the blackboard.

Whether cramming for a final or preparing his lessons, this student is shown in a typical W.V.U. atmosphere.

An intrinsic part of the attainment of a university education is the learning from another's knowledge. The University Library provides ample sources . . . yours for the asking.

A student demonstrates remote pippetting of radioactive isotopes in the Physics Building laboratory.

A biochemist extracts fats from feed for rancidity studies.



Research

Science continues to be the growing frontier of society. The greater man's knowledge becomes, the more he needs to improve himself and the world he lives in by study and research.

At West Virginia University research projects of many types are progressing to help penetrate these frontiers. Projects in agriculture, biological sciences, engineering, chemistry, physics, and astronomy are but a few of many such types of research sponsored by the University.

This is the growth of our nation in striving for advancement. It is another way of making a better world and a better West Virginia University.

Here a university forester observes the successful growth of an experimental mixed hardwood planting.

Here are sample detergent mixtures being stirred in the University's dairy laboratory.

Electrical engineers investigate amplitude modulation.

The W.V.U. Library depicts development at its most significant by the continually growing sources of knowledge to be found there.

Development

The growth of a university is seen in its attempts to better its facilities to benefit both students and faculty. Physical improvement is coupled with the idea that with progress will come a better university.

The ideal behind the development of West Virginia University is that with constant efforts toward perfection the high standards strived for will be attained. With the addition of the new Medical Center, Arnold Hall and the addition to the Men's Dormitory we see part of this development in progress. This is part of the growth of the state and of West Virginia University.

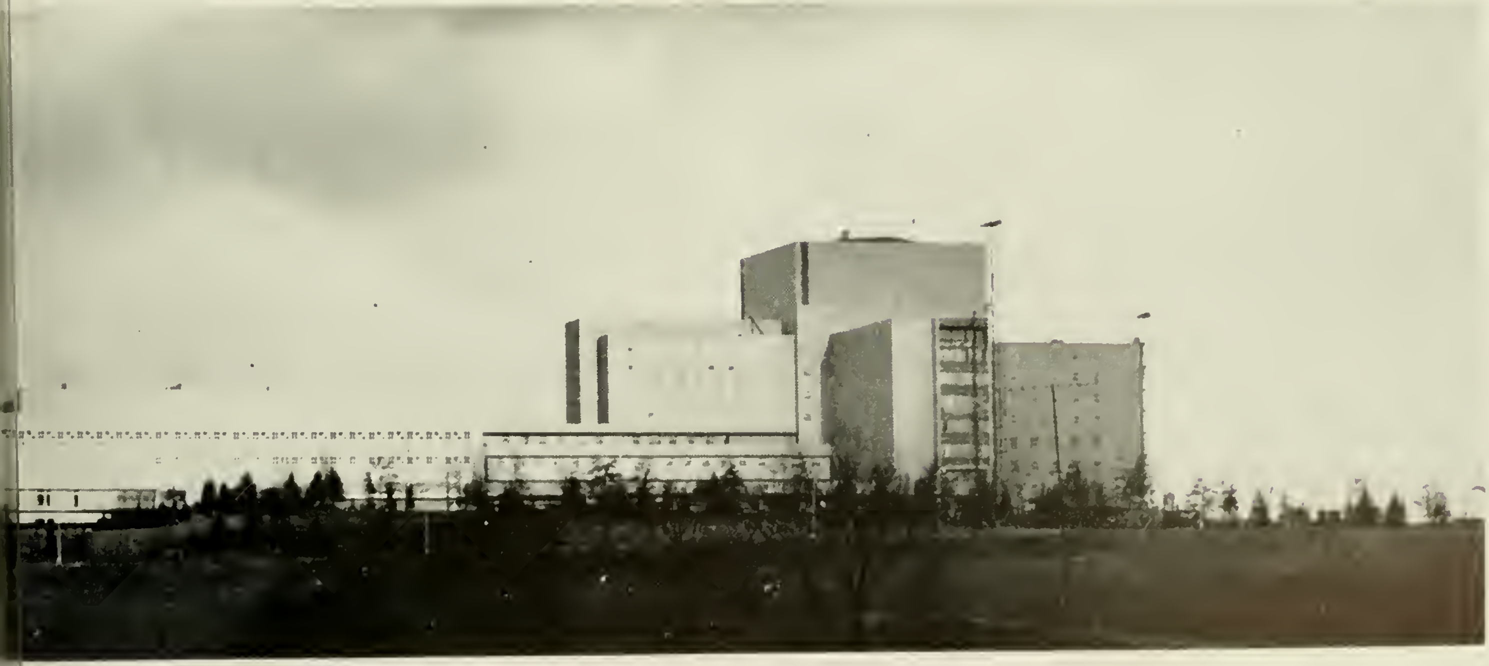
West Virginia University proudly displays its greatest contribution to educational development: The W.V.U. Medical Center.

The beautiful Rare Book Room in the University Library offers for display the many first editions owned by the University.

The new W.V.U. Bookstore, completed last summer, is the newest addition to the University community.

The new addition to Men's Dorm will double the University facilities for resident men.

The interior of the bookstore displays the many supplies provided to the best advantage.



The new administrative head and his family: President and Mrs. Elvis J. Stahr and their three children, Bradford Lanier, Stuart Edward Winston, and Stephanie Ann.

Administration

The February meeting of the West Virginia University Senate is conducted by the new administrative head, President Elvis J. Stahr.

The well-known "Ad." Building provides facilities for the Office of the Registrar and the University Comptroller, as seen at right and far right, as well as many other administrative services.

Cooperation is essential for the transference of knowledge. This is the principle that makes the relationship between the faculty, students, and the administration of our University successful in working toward the solution of the many problems that come up through the year.

Directing, planning, and governing all phases of student life from grades to student activities, the administration must be aware of changes and improvements from all phases of life that can help them to make a better West Virginia University.

The combination of the skills of the administration make our University one that is growing in its accomplishments year after year. This is the guiding hand that makes West Virginia University.

An inseparable part of West Virginia University's administrative function is the policing of the limited parking facilities on and near the campus.

The planning for and feeding of the 1500 University dormitory residents is a phase of the adminstration we seldom realize.

This group of faculty members enjoys an evening of bridge and companionship at the University Faculty Club.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

What is our University?

The most important thing about West Virginia University is that it is a university. As such, it is a major institution not just of the State of West Virginia but of the great world of scholarship; it is an inheritor and trustee of the oldest of man's great traditions, the eternal quest for knowledge, and it is dedicated to the performance of six functions which are of central and incalculable importance to West Virginia, to America, and indeed to all mankind:

(1) The preservation and organization of the constantly accumulating knowledge and thought of mankind.

(2) The transmittal and imparting of this knowledge and thought to succeeding generations.

(3) The challenging of individual men and women to seek knowledge, to think logically and critically, to communicate effectively, to develop intellectual and moral integrity based upon high standards of personal and social values, and to cultivate genuine appreciations for the good, the true, and the beautiful.

(4) The discovery of new knowledge and new insights through research, through contemplation, and through the intellectual and cultural stimulation of a community of scholars.

(5) The integration of knowledge, and the pursuit of wisdom, through the development of valid relationships between the findings and contributions of the many specialized fields and areas of information, thought, experience and research.

(6) The application of knowledge to the solution of problems, and to the development of better ways of working and living, for the benefit both of the individual and of society. This obviously includes the training of students for professional competence to serve society and thereby also to earn a livelihood for themselves and their families. It further includes the obligation of the University to serve the people generally in many useful ways.

Administrators

Registrar J. Everett Long, M.A., serves as chairman on the Committee of Admissions and controls academic records, credits, and student registration.

Dean of Women Betty Boyd, A.B., coordinates the activities and interests of the approximaely 1700 women students and acts as advisor to numerous student groups.

Director of Student Affairs, Joseph C. Gluck, B.A., B.D., controls the pulse of student activities at W.V.U. including organizations scholarships, convocations, and major events.

Academic Deans

Clyde L. Colson, L.L.B., S.J.D., Dean of the College of Law, heads the oldest professional school in the University. This college offers a three year professional course accepted by the West Virginia Bar Association.

Chester A. Arents, M.E., Dean of the College of Engineering, directs an expanding program awarding degrees in mechanical, chemical, electrical, and industrial engineering.

Roy Milton Kottman, Ph.D., M.S., is Dean of the College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics, which offers a state-wide extension program in addition to student instruction in these three fields.

Armand Rene Collett, Ph.D., is dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, the largest college in the University, which offers instruction in the biological, physical, and social sciences and the humanities.

Raymond W. Coleman, Ph.D., dean of the College of Commerce, offers an accredited four year program to prepare students for careers in management and economics.

Ray O. Duncan, Ed.D., is dean of the School of Physical Education and Athletics, which offers a general program and preparation for health and physical education, coaching, and recreation.

Easton K. Feaster, Ed.D., is dean of the College of Education, a two year college offering undergraduate teaching programs for both elementary and secondary school teachers.

Academic Deans

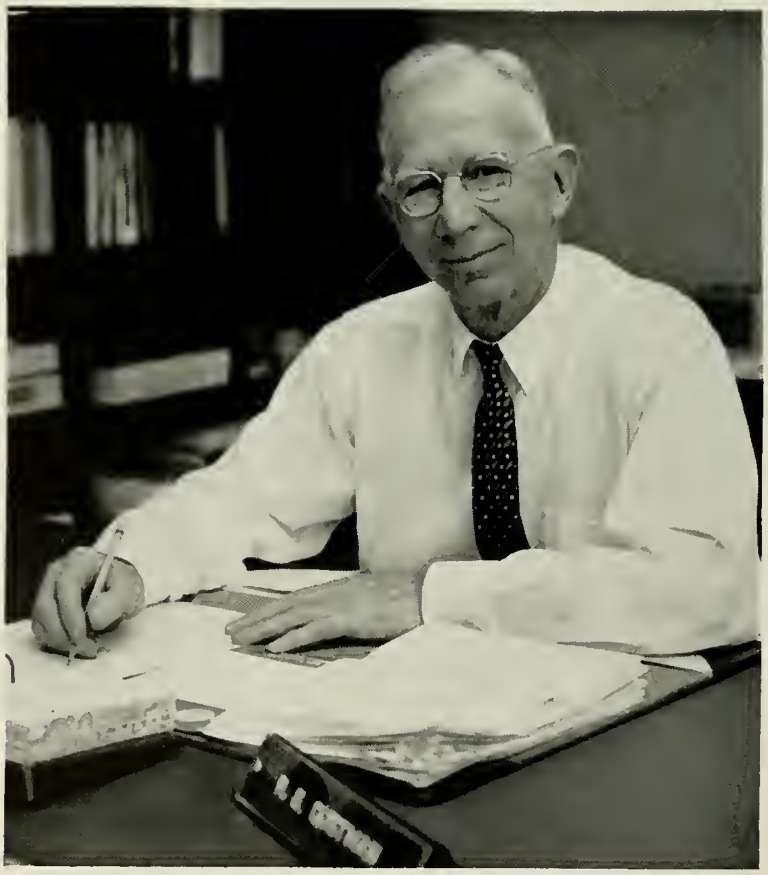
Warren K. Agee, M.A., Ph.D., serves as dean of the School of Journalism. A separate school since 1939, the "J" School is best known for the student-produced Daily Athenaeum.

J. Lester Hayman, Ph.C., M.S., dean of the college of Pharmacy, was instrumental in the adoption of a new program of two years pre-pharmacy and three years of pharmacy before graduation.

Richard E. Duncan, Ph.D., M.A., is dean of the West Virginia University's School of Music. In addition to a wide choice of curricula the school has a symphony orchestra, concert and marching band, and several choral groups.

Academic Deans

Robert Barclay Dustman, Ph.D., is dean of the Graduate School, comprising 50 departments and divisions. The Graduate School offers master's degrees in 53 different fields and doctor's degrees in 9 others.



Edward J. Van Liere, M.D., Ph.D., heads the University's new School of Medicine. Occupying the 1250-room Basic Sciences Building, the School offers up-to-date training for the medical professions.

G. Ralph Spindler, B.S.E.M., E.M., is dean of the School of Mines, which supplies personnel for the mineral fuels industries through a well-rounded educational and research program.

Kenneth V. Randolph, D.D.S., is the dean of the University's School of Dentistry. The curriculum of the Dentistry School parallels that of the School of Medicine in addition to the regular dental program.

Greater West Virginia Weekend is a symbol of the achievements of West Virginia University. Its purpose is to give parents, friends, and alumni a picture of the progress which has taken place in the past year.

On this weekend students are tapped for honoraries and initiated in impressive ceremonies on Library Terrace. Also, displays are presented by many departments showing the progress of the students. The crowning of the weekend comes with the presentation of the Mother's Day Sing. In this event all fraternities and sororities compete for the coveted Sing trophies. The Sing is closed with the singing of the Alma Mater by all of the participants.

LINK DAY is held on this weekend to honor students for scholastic achievement.

HAPPY SONGLEADERS receive winning trophies.

COORDINATING THIS WEEKEND is Bill Bright.

What is a Student...

A student searches for truth. He finds it in everything with which he comes into contact. The answer to a problem eludes him in one instance only to be found in another because his mind stays opened to learn.

In his social life and campus activities he has a chance to put into practice the theories given him in the classroom. His own search for improvement and expression make him a stronger person, more able to adjust to his environment.

A searching mind, a working hand, and a willing heart are the requirements of a student. They are the methods that make for greatness in a student and a university.

A follower . . . and a leader

Optimistic . . . and pessimistic

A dreamer . . . and a thinker

A worker . . . and a believer

He follows in the paths many have trod before him to learn to lead for the future.

A follower

He follows the crowd to the football game; perhaps because it is something he enjoys, perhaps because everyone does it.

MOUNTAINEER FIELD

He learns with others to follow in unison; a united group.

. . and a leader

He follows in the paths of learning already worn bare by those who have gone before him. It is along this path that he will begin to understand the great responsibility which faces him because of the knowledge he gathers.

Upon learning to follow, the path becomes more difficult and the knowledge that he has gained lifts him into a position of leadership. In this he is entrusted with teaching those who will come after him, thus completing the cycle.

Mountain Cheers: Leaders every one.

He leads the crowd enthusiastically.

It is only through hard work that the leader is effective.

They work together to perform well.

A worker . .

They work to better their lot in life.

They work for self-improvement.

and a believer

A student works to improve both himself and his society. He realizes that he is only a small part of an ever-improving civilization. This part goes to support his beliefs like the little Dutch boy supported his people's lives with his life beside the dike.

He believes in many things. However, with all of his beliefs, both strong and weak, those most important to him are the ones which will inspire him to search for truth and to believe in himself.

We go forward and upward only with the belief that we have that choice.

We hope for the future through our belief.

He believes in the future; he prepares for it.

All of us dream . . . and plan for our lives together.

A dreamer . . . and a thinker!

We find many of our dreams in the realm of books.

In his dreams he sees the heights to which his world can aspire. They give him love, joy, understanding, pain, and sorrow. All of these are gifts of living and they are a part of him.

With the dreams come the thoughts which are transferred from his mind into finished products. The thinking mind makes the student a whole, for this is the beginning of creation.

We think . . . sometimes well, or not at all.

We ponder many things; some things great and some things small.

Our thoughts are often fleeting, especially when we study.

We exercise our minds by concentrated play.

We play, we talk—with a knowledge for today and an optimism for tomorrow.

Optimistic . . .

We are happy: we'll win again!

A student is an optimist because he feels that in the power of learning man can see solutions to all problems. This feeling is a bouyancy which gives him a lighter heart and a lighter step.

Yet, with all this, man has something of the pessimist in him to help balance his reasoning. When he sees the darkness he must recognize it as such and not deceive himself of its coming. This is the true strength of the student for he can see both the bad and the good and know why they are necessary.

We study, sometimes we panic: that is an essential of the college student.

nd pessimistic

The symbol of the pessimist: it happens every time.

Sometimes we are afraid.

Optimism may be seen in any crowd: we are pleased with the present because we believe in the future.

Student Government

FRIENDLINESS PERSONIFIED: "Babe" Urso, student body vice-president

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Executive Council is composed of the president and vice-president of the student body and the president and vice-president of each class.

The executive branch is responsible to the president of the student body and its actions are subject to the approval or disapproval of the Legislature.

The duty of the Executive Council is to carry out specific and detailed tasks in the areas of Student Government Commission, Student Affairs Commission, Educational Affairs Commission and the International Affairs Commission. Most of Executive Council work is devoted to carrying out the policies and programs established by the Legislature in presenting new ideas for legislative consideration. Fundamental to the function of Executive Council is the continual development of a permanent committee system; all appointments originate within the group and are sent to the Legislature for approval or rejection.

STUDENT LEGISLATURE

Student Legislature, the policy-making branch of Student Government, is composed of representatives elected from each college and school of the University.

The Legislature has power to make all regulations necessary to promote properly the general welfare of the Student Body.

Legislative function is essentially a deliberative one. It concerns itself with the establishment of meaningful programs, the resolution of immediate and crucial issues, and the general direction of student activity.

Among their many projects are: ratification or rejection of all appointments proposed by the Executive Council, establishment of rules governing freshman traditions, appropriation of Student Government funds, reduction in the price of football tickets for married students wives, a study of the problem of cheating on campus, and a study of the present legislative system.

STERN JUDGES. Maria Sagris, Donald Santee, Charles Sinsell, Charles Kiser, John Frisk, Ruth Ann Booth, Larrie O'Dell.

STUDENT COURT

The Student Court is the chief regulating body in Student Government. As the judicial branch, the court has final authority on questions of a legal nature that arise within Student Government. It has the final word in constitutional issues and recommendatory power in disciplinary cases, such as offender of University regulations. The Court is empowered to try cases of violation of Freshman tradition and cases of conduct unbecoming a lady or gentleman.

It has the authority to promulgate rules and regulations when the necessity arises. This authority is used with restraint and in conformity with constitutional guarantees, so as to promote the maximum degree of responsible freedom.

Its membership includes: the Summit of Mountain, ranking men's honorary; the Emperor of Sphinx, senior men's honorary; the President of Mortar Board, the president of A.W.S., plus three members appointed by the student body president from the groups of second or third year law classes, Men's Hall Proctor's Council, and Women's Hall Advisory Boards.

"BIG CHIEF" Charles Kiser —Chief Justice of the Student Court.

John Carpenter, Barbara Kerchival, Barbara Romano, Louis Fabian.

ELECTIONS COMMITTEE

The Elections Committee organizes and administers the proper execution of all Student Government elections in accordance with the Student Body Constitution. Prior to any election held under the jurisdiction of Student Government, necessary information for the campus voting population is made available. These elections include freshmen elections, student body officer elections, and any referendum elections.

Four members of each political party make up the Elections Committee. The committee selects a chairman from its membership. The chairman must have had previous experience on this committee.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Public Relations Committee seeks avenues through which better campus and off-campus relations may be encouraged. This committee reviews situations in which public relations with faculty, visitors, alumni, and off-campus persons can be improved.

This committee's duties are to contact persons involved in public relations functions, make reports to the student body, and to investigate incidents in which public relations have been poor.

INFORM THE PUBLIC. Seated: Ocie Posener. Standing: Bill Shaw, Sue Ballard, David Wiley, Marion Wetherby, Steve King.

GOODWILL AMBASSADORS. Charles Love, Bob Haden, Chairman, Sam Urso.

PUBLICITY BUREAU

The Bureau is the organ of Student Government designed to plan, execute, and supervise any and all areas of Student Government publicity. It exists to insure that every program has well-planned and promptly executed publicity, and to insure that all Student Government publicity is coordinated under one central head.

COORDINATORS: Tom Yost, Nick Zegrea, Dreama Wyant, Homer "Scrappy" Cox, Marta Jo Hess, Dan Cavanaugh, Bill Bright.

STUDENT AFFAIRS COMMISSION

The Student Affairs Commission is concerned with student activities that include the student body as a whole. This commission is the branch of Student Government which is conducted entirely by appointed officials; and, therefore, is the area of the greatest student participation.

Student Affairs Commission consists of Freshman Orientation, Greater West Virginia Weekend, High School Leadership Conference, Homecoming Weekend, Mountaineer Weekend, Spiriteers, Spring Spree, and Transfer Orientation.

EDUCATIONAL AFFAIRS COMMISSION

The State Awareness Committee promotes pride and enthusiasm in the people of West Virginia and the students of West Virginia University in the culture and traditions of their state. The committee's interest lies in presenting the problems and advantages of the political, social, industrial, and educational institutions of West Virginia.

The International Awareness Committee concerns itself with the foreign students on campus and in the building of an awareness of the world situation in the members of the student body. The committee encourages friendship and assistance to students from foreign countries and promotes interest and knowledge of foreign affairs.

AWARENESS COMMISSION

The National Awareness Committee encourages interest and knowledge of national affairs among the student body members. This committee conducts seminars on topics of national interest and considers the student's role in higher education.

SECRETARIAT

This group of secretaries is indispensible in student government. Each secretary has her own office hours in which she types letters and files student government material.

There are two groups of the secretariat connected with the operation of Student Government. The first group looks after the daily in and out mail, types copies pending projects and files minutes, committee reports, and material in the office.

The second group of the secretariat is classed as Civil Service secretaries. These secretaries file student government application cards, type up master lists of students applying for committee positions for chairmen and co-ordinators, and recopy evaluation sheets about people who have particiated in student government activities.

MARIA SAGRIS, A. W. S. President

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Established on campus in 1913, the aim of the association is to regulate all matters pertaining to the college life of its members and to maintain self-government for University coeds. All women students enrolled in the University are members.

Activities of A.W.S. are the initiation of the Activities Night program to acquaint the freshman with the purposes and projects of all campus organizations, sponsoring Showboat Weekend, Penny Nights, tea during Freshman Week, reception during Greater West Virginia Weekend, the A.W.S.—Sphinx Carnival, publishes a coed primer acquainting freshman women with University life, and distributes to all University women an Official Rule Book containing A.W.S. rules.

"U" Women produce Showboat Weekend

The school year of 1958-59 found the women of A.W.S. with a new idea for an old weekend. Instead of the usual "Golddiggers Ball," the women took a whole weekend for their celebration and called it "Showboat Weekend."

The idea proved to be a success with the women planning and executing everything to provide a fine session of entertainment, PLUS paying all the fare. One of the most popular events of the year, this weekend continues to be one of those looked forward to year after year.

Helvetia was established on the West Virginia University campus in 1955 as the honor society to recognize outstanding members of the freshman class. Members are chosen at the end of the freshman year with their period of service coming in their sophomore year. High scholarship, leadership, and character are the bases of selection.

Special projects of the group include Freshman Orientation, Freshman projects, building of the Mountaineer for Mountaineer Weekend, the Homecoming Weekend Parade, and a hundred-dollar Helvetia Scholarship.

Dr. Harold Kidder serves as sponsor of the organization.

Publications:
Information and Inspiration

The publications of a university must serve both to inform the student body and to express their opinion and impressions. The publications of our University, the MONTICOLA and the Athenaeum, have continued this year to give the students the superior type of service which they deserve.

COMMITTEE ON STUDENT PUBLICATIONS. John Luchok, Darrell McGraw, Dr. Patrick Gainer, Dr. Warren K. Agee, Chairman; Fred E. Wright, Margorie Christopher.

DAILY ATHENAEUM

Serving the West Virginia University Community Since 1887

"In With Flynn" and "Sports Beat" are familiar names to W.V.U. students, as are John Flynn (left) and John Kady, DA co-sports editors. The chalk conference at right shows a portion of the DA editorial board in its weekly meeting. At the blackboard is Tom Melody and seated from left to right are: Edwina Mackey, Barbara Sayre, Ruth Cuppett, John Hall, Pat Calhoun and Martha Sandy.

The University is one of the few colleges in the East that has a daily college newspaper. One of the nation's eldest, the Daily Athenaeum is now in its 71st year. It is published four times weekly with some special editions. A member of the West Virginia Press Association and the Associated Collegiate Press, the DA is a tabloid, edited by students in the School of Journalism. Faculty members are advisers to the student staff.

The next to last step before the DA is printed is to put the type in page forms. Here News Editor Tom Melody consults with Mr. Vernon James, composing room superintendent of the Morgantown Publishing Co., about the layout of a DA news page.

Sketching out the advertising layout for the DA is Business Manager Ivan Bush, left. Advertising salesmen Polly Cannon and Dave Wiley seem to be brainstorming on some advertising revenue possibility.

Chief Photographer Bennie Scarton also has another large chore. Here he is adjusting a Scanagraver prior to cutting another plastic reproduction plate from a photograph.

With headquarters in Martin Hall, about 40 students assist in "getting out the DA." A departmentalized paper, the DA has editors for news, sports, society, and literary pages. In addition, there are an editorial board, business staff, and photography staff.

Its circulation is 6,000 plus. The paper is aimed at complete campus coverage for maximum service to the University community. Too, the Daily Athenaeum has UPI wire service to bring students and faculty the top state, national, and international news.

Rocky Ferrell, Business Manager, discusses finances for the year with Dr. Patrick Gainer.

Monticola

"A book you will be proud of." This is the desire of the entire staff of the 1959 MONTICOLA.

The Editor and the Business Manager have tried to give to the student body of West Virginia University a picture of one year: a year so filled with important events that it would be impossible to give each one full coverage.

Lynne Stewart, Editor-in-Chief, works on the "dummy" layouts.

Mike Oliver, Associate Editor; and Carl Ekstrom, Associate Business Manager, discuss the psychology of the "MONTICOLA Hierarchy."

Dr. Patrick Gainer, Faculty Advisor, keeps a keen and interested eye on the year's progress.

The events which the staff of the book have included are those which are closely related to the faculty and the student body.

In giving the University a yearbook such as the MONTICOLA, much time must be spent for little reward, but the real pride of the MONTICOLA is that it belongs to the students. This is a claim that can be made by very few college yearbooks.

Service to the University. This is the MONTICOLA, the student yearbook.

Mary Ann Bornmann, Honoraries Editor; Pattie Wilkerson, Classes Editor; Bill Keller; and Joan Bratton, Beauties Editor, discuss the problems involved in their sections.

Sandy Waybright, Business Secretary; and Lynn Cromwell, Subscriptions Chairman, busily count and file subscriptions.

"Mac" Wetherby, Executive Secretary, dictates to her assistant, Sarah Brawley, while Joyce Hanna, Greeks Editor, Margie Christopher, Art Editor; and Margaret Mangus, Special Events Editor, listen in.

Betty West, Organizations Editor, explains the methods of typing manuscript to secretaries Mary Ann Egan and Myrna Snider.

Who's Who

HOWARD LEWIS. Work seems to be his motto. He is forever striving through the Daily Athenaeum to make improvements for the University and the State. He invariably makes every possible effort to present the news so that the students are always informed. This surely ranks Howard as a true Editor-in-Chief. He is a member of Fi Batar Cappar, Sphinx, and Mountain, was President of his fraternity, Sigma Chi, and worked as proctor at Men's Hall for three years.

ANN BURCHINAL. Ann has truly proven herself an outstanding personality. She will graduate in three years, during which time she has, in addition to maintaining a high scholastic average, contributed greatly to the University community. She has served as Li-Toon-Awa President, Freshman Guide, and Treasurer for Kappa Kappa Gamma. She has been a member of the AWS Program Board, WUS Steering Committee, Mountaineer Weekend Steering Committee and received the Outstanding Service Award for Student Government work. Ann's three years have certainly been well used.

MARY SUE GILKESON. Her exceptional leadership abilities have been demonstrated this year in her able handling of the Panhellenic Council Presidency. "Gilky's" active participation in many phases of campus life have served to make her an outstanding campus leader. She was a Freshman Guide, a member of the International Awareness Commission, and active in YWCA work. Her honors are many, including Mortar Board, Spokes, and Chimes. She will doubtless be long remembered by all who have worked with her.

MARIA GEORGE SAGRIS. Her ever-ready smile and ready sympathy alone would rank Maria among the most outstanding students at W.V.U. However, coupled with these attributes, she has proven herself a true leader in her capacity as AWS President. The confidence that students and faculty alike place in her have also gained her positions as Coordinator of the AWS Eastern Regional Convention; and International Awareness Committee Chairman. Maria's honors are many; she has been chosen for membership in Mortar Board, Spokes, Chimes, Li-Toon-Awa, and Pi Delta Phi.

DAVID NICHOLS. An outstanding man with the "pen." His writings can be found in many publications on campus. His jobs as Copy-Editor of the 1958 MONTICOLA, as news Editor of the Daily Athenaeum, and Editor of "Meet the Greek" fraternity magazine are accomplishments that rank great recognition. He has served in many positions of leadership responsibility and the results have been truly exceptional. He is a member of Mountain and the Student Court. It certainly may be said that his stay at the University has been successful.

at W. V. U.

ROCKY FERRELL. The thoughtfulness and kindly consideration that are a part of him makes Rocky a most pleasant person to work with in any capacity. His many responsibilities as Business Manager of the 1959 MONTICOLA he has fulfilled with efficiency and initiative. He has proven himself a leader in other capacities as well, among them the Presidency of Cavaliers, membership in Sphinx, Mountain, and the 1958 Greater West Virginia Weekend Steering Committee. We salute you, Rocky!

FRANCES BARNES COX. With energetic spirit and capabilities unlimited, she has chosen to serve her university. It is difficult to measure the contributions that she has so unselfishly made. She is truly a leader on this campus. Her activities have included Li-toon-awa, Chimes, President of Spokes, Vice President of Pi Beta Phi Sorority, Mortar Board, Greater West Virginia Weekend Steering Committee, and a list of many more.

RUTH ANN BOOTH. Scholarship, leadership, service: these are Ruth Ann's contribution to the University. As President of Mortar Board, she has lead this group to several outstanding services to the University. As a speech major, she has worked well with the University Theater during her four years. However, Ruth Ann has not restricted herself in her activities, which include ISA, Chimes President, Li-Toon-Awa, Life Week Steering Committee, and membership in Student Court.

SANDRA "BABE" URSO. The wonderful job that Babe has done this year as Vice-President of the Student Body has marked her a leader. She has continuously worked for the improvement of Student Government and the welfare of the University. Her many activities are Spokes, Orchesis, AWS, Freshman Cheerleader, and Freshman Guide. "A tribute for a job well done!"

HOMER "SCRAPPY" COX. His interest in furthering the scope of athletics at the University has certainly helped to boost the morale and spirit of both the student body and football and basketball teams toward each other. He has certainly done an excellent job as student member of the Athletic Council. His other contributions cannot be passed over lightly. He was coordinator of Spring Spree Weekend and has been a member of the Homecoming Weekend and Greater West Virginia Weekend Steering Committees and Mountaineer Week Team. He is also a member of Fi Batar Cappar, Scabbard and Blade, and Mountain.

French Candy

MARY ANNTONNETTE MANOLAKIS. Her clear thinking and intelligent foresight have made Mary a real leader. Her excellent job on the Student Absentee Ballot project for Mortar Board this year has brought a great service to the University. Her many outstanding activities include Freshman Class Vice-President, Li-Toon-Awa President, Chimes, WUS Coordinator, Mountainlair Vice-President, Mortar Board Vice-President, and a member of the Greek Orthodox Youth Association. With her outstanding scholarship and activities, Mary has definitely been an asset to the University.

RUTH GRANT CUPPETT. One of the few people that have held two positions of tremendous responsibility at the same time. As president of Chi Omega Sorority and member of the Daily Athenaeum editorial board she has done a wonderful job. In addition she has been a member of Theta Sigma Phi, Li-Toon-Awa, Spokes, and Chimes. She also did a superior job as member of Life Week Steering Committee and AWS Judicial Board. An exceptional person of paramount contributions to West Virginia University.

MARGARET ANNE "MARGIE" CHRISTOPHER. Probably one of the most active persons on campus. Her interest and work in religious activities and Student Government was superlative. Her many activities include Chimes, MONTICOLA Art Editor, Daily Athenaeum Art Editor, Kappa Delta Pi, La Tertulia, SNEA, Student Legislature Member, International Awareness, University Religious Council, YWCA, Coordinator of Life Week, and Mountaineer Weekend Steering Committee. Her work has certainly been a boon to the University.

BARBARA SAYRE. She places the University first. With her wit and personality, she has made many people "disagree," but she has continued to keep the main goal before her—service to the University. Her high scholastic average is both an honor to her and the University, but she still has time for her many activities. Barb is President of YWCA, Vice-President of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, member of Kappa Tau Alpha, Theta Sigma Phi, Li-Toon-Awa, Chimes, and Mortar Board, and she has also held the position for two years as student member on the University Social Committee. A high calibre person with a unique personality.

JOHN CARROLL KING. Many improvements have taken place at Mountainlair under John's able leadership. He has worked toward a better Mountainlair for the benefit of the University and its students. His success on campus is the result of determination and hard work. In addition to Mountainlair responsibilities he was president of Kappa Sigma Fraternity, member of Helvetia, Pi Sigma Alpha, Scabbard and Blade and Advertising Manager of MONTICOLA. He ranks on merit.

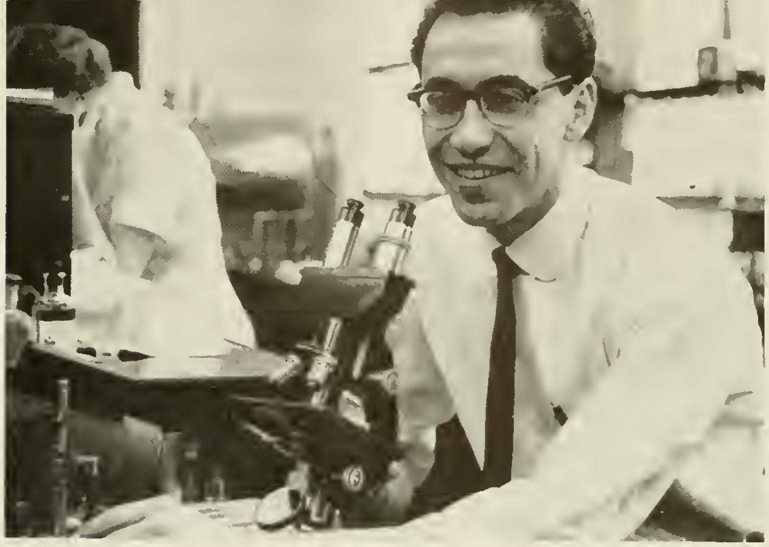
ROSALIE FUSCALDO. With her quiet composure and her calm efficiency, Rosalie has accomplished many things during her college career. With her ready willingness to work well at anything she has been known as one of the most responsible and capable of senior women. Her activities certainly substantiate this tribute. They include AWS Residence Coordinating Council Chairman, 1957 Golddigger's Ball Coordinator, Newman Hall Vice-President, Woman's Hall Vice-President, 1958 Leadership Conference Steering Committee, Mortar Board, Spokes, Chimes, and Li-Toon-Awa.

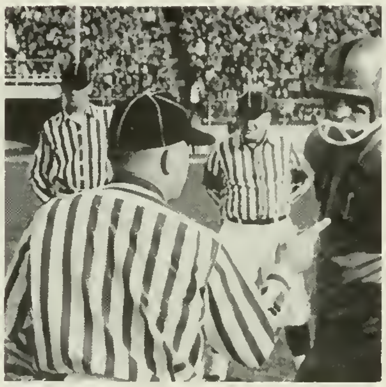


EDWARD A. ZAKAIB. He started his career at the University by receiving a scholastic award given only to the top ten men of the freshman class. Thereafter his leadership qualities flourished as he became President of Helvetia, President of the Junior Class and President of the freshman Medical School class. In addition he is a member of Fi Batar Cappar and Mountain. His faithful service has made him a boon to the University.

JOAN M. BRATTON. Never does she fail to do an excellent job, whatever it may be. The value she places on the positions she receives is immense. As Beauties Editor of the MONTICOLA and Secretary of State Awareness she has proven that no matter the size of the job, it can be accomplished quickly and efficiently. During her stay at W.V.U. she has worked on Spiriteer Card Design, Mountainlair Mixers and Spring Spree Dance Committees; and too, she served as President of Pi Beta Phi Sorority, on Spokes, and on International Awareness. She certainly ranks among those that have contributed the most to the University.

ELEFTHERIUS P. "TED" BAKER. Ted's knowledge of and interest in Student Government is difficult to match. He has never wavered in the face of responsibility and his leadership has been shown more than once as Coordinator of Mountaineer Weekend, Life Week, Leadership Conference, and Chairman of the Military Ball. As member of Helvetia, Sphinx, and Mountain he has always worked for the betterment of the University.

EDWARD THOMAS WETZEL, II. Tom's interest in religious activities and political enlightenment has marked him as a leader and server of the University. His position as President of YMCA and the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity has kept him extremely busy yet he has found time to do an excellent job as Chairman of the Sphinx talent show. His activities include member of Spring Spree Weekend Steering Committee, Sigma Theta Epsilon, and he has acted as Freshman Guide and Life Week Speaker.



Athletics, perfection

Unique sounds—the soft thud of a punted football, the swish of a basketball through a net, the crack of a baseball off a bat, the gasps of an anxious crowd as a pole vaulter soars into the air.

These are the familiar signs and sounds of an athletic program. The crowds watch the contests but something else occurs that is unseen. This is the unifying element that grows within the student body as each heart pulls for that last yard or a last-second jump shot.

The student body pulling for their teams, the teams giving each contest their maximum effort, this is symbolic of the bond that exists in a great university . . . This is West Virginia University.

through competition . . .

Fall brings on that most-enjoyed sport of all here at West Virginia—FOOTBALL—with the many traditionally exciting and colorful weekends that are an integral part of West Virginia University.

Department of Athletics

Robert "Red" Brown, popular Director of Athletics for the Mountaineers.

Under the able leadership of the late Roy M. Hawley West Virginia began to make its way out of the backwoods as a sports school. It all began in 1954 when the Mountaineers were selected to play in the Sugar Bowl. From that time on West Virginia University had passed the lean, hungry years as an also-ran to a major sports power. The Mountaineers reached a peak last season when they came up with the top basketball team of the nation. The current success enjoyed by the Mountaineer athletic program can be attributed chiefly to the efforts of the ever-popular Robert "Red" Brown who inherited the job as Director of Athletics from "Legs" Hawley.

But getting a team before the public eye and keeping it there, despite unprecedented success, is a difficult and lengthy job. Eddie Barrett has done that job. Information, pictures, and press releases have poured from his office; and a sports-minded nation has taken notice.

However, even with the tremendous job of building and recruiting done by head coaches Art Lewis and Fred Schaus, a team must be kept operating. It is up to Dr. John J. Lawless and "Whitey" Gwynne to do exactly that. Dr Lawless is in his second year as athletic physician while "Whitey" has been on the job for twelve years.

In the personable young Fred Schaus, West Virginia has one of the finest coaches in the basketball business. His team started off with the reputation of being the kingpins of the Southern Conference and recently have attained national notoriety.

Coach Art Lewis has led Mountaineer football teams from the basement of the gridiron world to the point where they oppose the major college powers. The road has been a rocky one and will continue to be so, but obstacles like occasional losing seasons must be overcome on the road to success.

The day of the Mountaineers meeting second class opponents is over. Through the efforts of an efficient athletic department the West Virginia University Mountaineers have come out of the boondocks of the sports world to national prominence . . . something we enjoy and intend to keep.

Cheerleaders

There is a little something extra that distinguishes a great university from a good one. Naturally, the academic standard comes into this picture, but that is only half of it. The other side of the picture is that intangible quality called "spirit."

To some college students spirit is shown by childish yelling at an athletic contest. These students feel this should have been left behind in high school. To them college students are more conservative, more grown-up, and they just couldn't lower themselves to such display. To the more mature college student spirit is represented in the complete support of the university in every way concerned. That support may come through participation in student government, as a freshman guide, or on the Mountaineer Week team. Those persons symbolizing school spirit that are most on display, however, are the cheerleaders and the Mountaineer. They represent a sometimes apathetic student body in supporting our athletic teams.

The cheerleaders are always in front of the fans and behind the team. At times they are given support and at times they are alone in their enthusiastic activities. This does not dampen their spirit, however. Their morale building efforts are constant and unchanging.

Mountaineer

The Mountaineer is the symbol of the University. He symbolizes the ruggedness and courage of his past counterparts. The sound of his long rifle is familiar to every West Virginia fan and is rapidly becoming a trademark all over the country as the fame of Mountaineer teams spread. The Mountaineer symbolizes the present and the future. He symbolizes everything concerning West Virginia University. As long as there is a West Virginia Unversity there will be a Mountaineer to exemplify the spirit of the student body in action.

BUT PLEASE DON'T THROW IT. Sam Urso implores as he collects Spiriteers flash cards.

Spiriteers

The Spiriteers is the name given to the flash card section that performs at all home football games. Spiriteers is a project of Student Government and is financed by the Athletic Department. The purpose of the Spiriteers is to promote school spirit and induce pride in the student body of West Virginia from those who see the card section in action. But what do we remember most about Spiriteers in 1958?

"There are plenty of seats right down front in the Spiriteers section." This is a familiar sentence to anyone who attended one of the Mountaineer home football games this season. We remember the unique voice of Dan Cavanaugh pleading over the public address system for the students to sit in the reserved seat section set aside for the Spiriteers.

The flash card section adds color to any football game. This is true of West Virginia's home games. The Spiriteer committee put many hours of work into preparation for an exhibition that may include a maximum of five or six tricks. The Spiriteer steering commitee works on trick design, sorting the flash cards, revising and replacing instruction cards, and finally yelling at color blind students who flash a red card in a blue and gold design. For the Spiriteers committees the hours of preparation are and miseries many, and the reward small.

What is typical of a Saturday afternoon in the Spiriteers section? The Spiriteers committee works long and hard and the students avoid the Spiriteers section to sit on the 20 yard line. The committee spends hours in meetings and the students destroy the instruction cards. The committee replaces the instruction cards and the students throw the flash cards. The committee replaces the flash cards and the students still refuse to give up five minutes of their time at a game.

A card section looks great at a game. It attracts the attention of alums and guests. So thanks for your efforts, Spiriteers Steering Committee, and to you students who did cooperate. And to the students who were indifferent and apathetic, we hope you shape up by next fall.

HEY, DAN, LOOK AT THE RED CARD IN THE BLUE DESIGN. Spiriteers "wheels" are caught giving advice at half-time.

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH
ART "PAPPY" LEWIS

Football · 1958

The 1958 football season was one of surprises for West Virginia University. The only difficulty was, most of the surprises came at the expense of the Mountaineers. The pre-season polls ranked the Mountaineers high. Many sports writers were optimistic enough to predict a 9-1 season record for the charges of Art Lewis. What happened is past history. The Mountaineers finished the season with a 4-5-1 record. It went into the record books as the first losing season since the bushy-browed recruiter took over at the helm of W.V.U.

All was not gloom for the Mountaineers, however. Dick Longfellow and Mel Reight set Southern Conference records with their outstanding performances and were named to the U.P.I. all-conference team along wtih teammates Terry Fairbanks and Bill Lopaskey. These four standouts led a team full of sophomores and juniors through a successful second half of the schedule. The last five games were marked with such memorable contests as the tie with Penn State, the victories over William and Mary, V.P.I., and George Washington and the valiant losing effort against Syracuse.

As for the outlook for 1959, the services of Longfellow, Reight, and Fairbanks will be sorely missed but there will be a few familiar faces around to bolster the Mountaineers. Many of these performers came into prominence during the successful last half of the season when sophomores and juniors in the line-up were as familiar as trips to Jimmies. Some important names to remember for next year are ends Ben McComb and Tony Tallerico, tackles Pete Tolley and Carl Dannenberg, guards Bill Lopaskey and Glen Bowman, centers Joe Wirth and Chuc Billak, quarterback Danny Williams, halfbacks Ray Peterson, Dave Rider, and John Marra, and fullbacks Bob Benke.

The Mountaineers will be rough and ready next year, so look out West Coast, here we come!

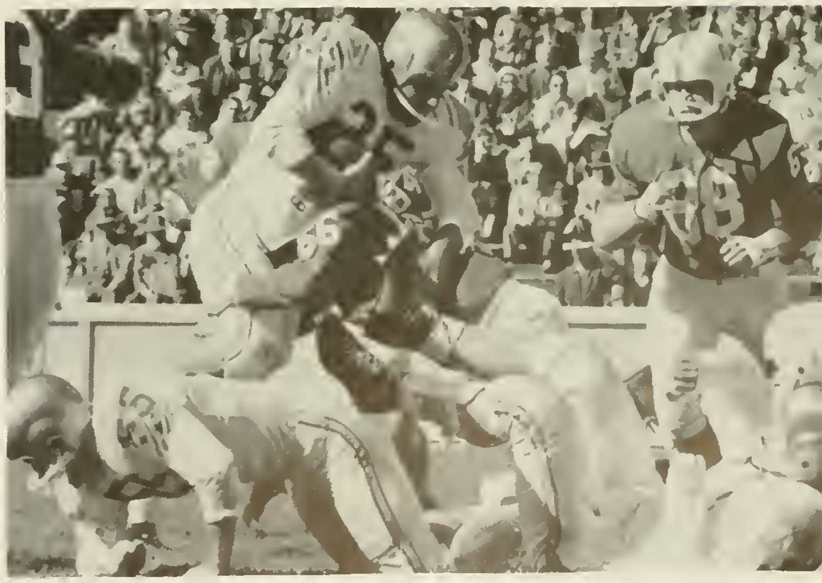
The Season . . .

The 1958 version of the West Virginia U. football team was full of surprises. At times they appeared as though they were capable of trimming any opponent they might face while at other times nothing seemed to go well.

The season opener came against the University of Richmond. On this day the Mountaineers created a new look in West Virginia football attire and appeared in all white uniforms. There seemed to be some magic in the new togs the first time they were worn into combat because the Mounties hardly got them dirty in rolling to an easy 66-22 victory. The magic soon wore off however, and before you could say Oklahoma, Indiana, Boston U., and Pitt, the charges of Art Lewis were back in their "lucky" mustard-colored suits rolling to victories over stout Southern Conference rivals.

WHERE DID THIS GUY COME FROM? Sophomore fullback Bob Benke drives through the Richmond line as Dick Guesman and J. D. Miller clear the way.



COME TO DADDY. "Rebel Ray" Peterson pulls in a Longfellow pass and is on his way.

In the Richmond encounter the Mountaineers showed a vast array of talented backs led by quarterbacks Dick Longfellow and Danny Williams. The squad was ably directed by these two stand-outs who ran and passed to perfection. The Mounties put the game on ice with a 30 point splurge in the second period. In the scoring parade six pointers were produced by Dave Rider and Mel Reight who had two each, John Marra, Glen Shamblin, Ray Peterson, Bob Benke and Danny Williams. Tackle Dick Guesman made two placements good and Longfellow scored twice for two point plays following West Virginia td's. Sophomores Danny Williams, Glen Bowman, Bob Benke and John Marra played a major role in the Mountaineer victory.

Next Coach Art Lewis and his group of hardy mountain boys invaded the flat lands of Oklahoma with the aspiration of performing the second greatest Norman conquest since 1066. What happened that ill-fated September day is now past history. The Mountaineers, taking their first step into the ring of the major college powers, faced one of the strongest, in fact four or five of the strongest, football teams they have ever had the displeasure to compare tackles with.

Groundskeepers at Owen Stadium were getting worried in the first half of the game because all the turf on one end of the field was being torn up while the other end of the gridiron remained virtually intact. Needless to say, the end which received the bad treatment was the one West Virginia was defending. It must be added, however, that the Mountaineers did a fine job of defending their goal line for twenty-eight minutes of the first half. During this period the charges of Art Lewis repelled no less than four attacks by the famed Sooners. Finally, after a wierd series of punts in which W.V.U. had three punts nullified by penalties, the great Mountaineer forward wall developed a leak and an Oklahoma end poured through to block a punt by sophomore quarterback Danny Williams to set up the first score of the game. The Sooners took advantage of this opportunity and one more before the first half ended and left the field on the long end of a 15-0 score. During the intermission, Coach Bud Wilkinson read press notices to his Football machine and they realized that they were the number one team in the nation. With that in mind they took the field and ran roughshod over the hapless W.V.U. men.

"RETREAT, HELL; WE'RE SETTING UP A PUNT RETURN." The West Virginia forward wall charges to no avail in Indiana's stunning upset of the Mountaineers.

The Mountaineers prized junior halfbacks, Dave Rider and Ray Peterson.

West Virginia did manage to score, however. They racked up one six pointer when Bill Lopaskey, a third team guard, blocked a punt and carried it 26 yards into the end zone. Later in the fourth period Danny Williams piloted a Mountaineer eleven goalward and climaxed the drive by going over himself from two yards out. Seconds later Danny passed to Mel Reight for a two point score.

Ray Peterson, along with quarterbacks Danny Williams and Dick Longfellow, received praise from the Oklahomans for their fine play.

The West Virginia University footballers came out of the Oklahoma contest a bruised and battered unit. They could hold no effective practice sessions during the week preceding the encounter with Indiana. As a result, they were not the same team in Bloomington that the Mountaineer fans had seen when they walked over Richmond and held mighty Oklahoma in tow for two quarters. Their timing was off and the team seemed to lack the lustre they had shown in previous performances. As a result an inspired Indiana team gave the Mountaineers one of the worst Saturday afternoons they have experienced since an encounter with a bunch of engineers from some school in Georgia.

The Mountaineers got their first score when Terry Fairbanks hit an Indian ball carrier forcing him to fumble. Dave Rider was on the play like a cat and scooped up the loose pigskin and carried it to the four yard line of the enemy. On the next play Ray Peterson carried it in for the score. From then on the game was a defensive battle with the exception of two major lapses on the part of West Virginia which allowed Indiana to grab off scores on two long runs by Roy Oman. Late in the final quarter West Virginia tried again under the direction of Dick Longfellow. The 61 yard drive ended with Longfellow going over from the 2 yard line. On the attempted point after play a pass from Longfellow to Reight was knocked down and that was the way it ended. The Mountaineers had suffered their second straight defeat by a score of 13-12.

West Virginia then returned home to face Boston U. There were seven records set and two tied but it was just so much sour grapes. The Mountaineers were upset by a spirited team that had what West Virginia lacked . . . . desire. The Terriers from Boston were 14 point underdogs going into the game but came out on the long end of a 36-30 score. Dick Longfellow was about the only bright spot on the Mountaineer squad. He and Mel Reight shared in the record making activities with their passing and receiving. The principal factors in the losing cause on the Mountaineer ledger were the sloppy line play and lack of desire. West Virginia apparently expected the Terriers to roll over and play dead but these boys had no idea of performing dog tricks for the Mounties. The game left Mountaineer fans wondering what would become of West Virginia through-out the rest of the "roughest schedule in Mountaineer history." The answer seemed to be desire.

There seemed to be no rest for the weary as far as the Mounties were concerned. Following the Boston U. fiasco they invaded Pittsburgh to renew an ancient rivalry with the Pitt Panthers. As a result of their dismal 1-3 record, the charges of Pappy Lewis were made 14 point underdogs in the contest. West Virginia rose to the occasion, however, and played one of their finest games all year. The forward wall took on a new life and was harder to get through than the picket lines at downtown hotels. The Mountaineer line hit hard and Pitt fumbled frequently. One of these fumbles set the stage for the only West Virginia score mid-way through the first quarter. A stray pigskin was recovered on the Pitt three yard line and Sophomore Danny Williams turned it into six points for our side. Williams then hit Rider for two more points and West Virginia led at 8-0. Late in the first half Ivan Toncic connected on a long heave to put the Panthers back in the game. Toncic proved to be the fly in the ointment for the Mounties with his passing as he led Pitt to a second half touchdown that was the clincher. The Mountaineers were not out of contention until the final gun, however, as they came battling back only to have a last second pass intercepted in the end zone to preserve a 13-8 victory for Pitt.

Following a losing streak of four games Coach Art Lewis took his charges back to the familiar confines of the Southern Conference to lose the blues. The Mountaineers played one of their poorest games all season but it was still good enough to defeat an inspired V.P.I. team. The Gobblers were given an excellent chance to snap the W.V.U. Southern Conference winning streak and there were many anxious moments before the final gun sounded and the Mountaineers came out with a slim 21-20 victory. At halftime V.P.I. held a 20-8 lead as a result of the passing of Bill Holsclaw. Following the intermission the Mounties made a great comeback on the hands and legs of Mel Reight. "Lefty" scored the other West Virginia six pointer and tackle Dick Guesman converted the game winning point.

Finding the Southern Conference to their liking, the Mountaineers stayed in that league for their next encounter. This one came against George Washington on Mountaineer Field. Sparked by the brilliant play of Quarterback Dick Longfellow, West Virginia staged a last period rally to batter the Colonials into submission to the tune of 35-12. The first half of the contest looked like a comedy of errors until both teams settled down to play sound football. W.V.U. fumbled four times in the first half and lost possession of the leather on each occasion. Longfellow and senior Chuck Simpson, and Tony Tallerico shared the lime-light with six-pointers.

After enjoying two weeks of Southern hospitality the Mountaineers went out into the cruel, hard world again to face sterner opposition. It came as expected from old rival Penn State. The Mounties, led by Dick Longfellow, were underdogs but managed to come out with a 14-14 tie. The Homecoming crowd and the sparkling play of Longfellow were significant in the "moral" victory for Art Lewis and his crew. Longfellow passed and ran to perfection and scored all of West Virginia's points in a great individual performance. Art Lewis again resorted to the ancient, well-worn mustard colored uniforms that the Mountaineers have become famous, or perhaps infamous for, and the superstition paid off. One can't help but wonder, however, if the yellow suits would have provided that extra block to spring a back loose in the Indiana encounter or made the backs any faster or the defense any stronger against Oklahoma. What did cause the Mountaineers to shake their losing ways? Was it the mustard colored uniforms or the less tringent atmosphere of the Southern Conference?

The next stop for Dick Longfellow and Co. was Williamsburg, Va. where they were entertained by a very congenial host in the persons of the football team of William and Mary College. West Virginia was after its 28th consecutive conference victory and the Southern Conference championship. They got both of these with a 56-6 win over hapless William and Mary. If the score wasn't bad enough, the statistics were even worse. West Virginia amassed a total of 268 yards rushing while Wm. & Mary could do no better than a minus 12. Eleven different Mountaineers figured in the scoring procession while seven of this number accounted for touchdowns. Dick Longfellow was again impressive in this victory along with several sophomores and juniors.

As if the season hadn't been long and hard enough, Art Lewis and his cohorts still had to face nationally ranked Syracuse in their final game on Mountaineer Field. Syracuse was ticketed for an Orange Bowl bid against Oklahoma if they made a good showing against West Virginia. Well, Syracuse got the bowl bid but whether they made a good showing or not is debatable. The only department where Syracuse outranked the Mountaineers was in the scoring column. The cohorts of Dick Longfellow and Mel Reight led the field in first downs, rushing yardage, and passing yardage but came out on the short end of a 15-13 score. The Mountaineer scores came on long drives and were capped by scores by Longfellow and Danny Williams. It was the ball carrying of Reight, Rider, Peterson, and Whipkey that featured the day, however. The West Virginia fans were treated to an unfamiliar sight midway through the second period when a Mountaineer drive was halted on the Syracuse fifteen yard line. At tht point fourth team fullback Bob Lively entered the game and attempted a feat that hadn't been seen at Mountaineer Field since Gene Simmons hung up his stub-toed shoe. Lively attempted a field goal that failed to hit the mark. Bad kick or poor hold? Who knows? And thus the 1958 season ended with the Mountaineers finest performance of the season. There was also a sour note, however. The Mountaineers had finished with their first losing season since Art Lewis took over at the helm.

The Season

Along about the first of December Coach Fred Schaus was saying that his West Virginia basketball charges would be lucky to come out of the current campaign with 20 wins. Then came the grueling season, the Southern Conference tournament and the Mountaineers were off for their fifth straight trip to the NCAA play-offs in New York. This time Fireball Fred said: "I don't care who we play, we'll win." What seemed to have caused this change in the attitude of the Mountaineer mentor? It can be summed up in four words. Those are brains, ability, desire, and Jerry West.

The 1958 National Championship team had come a long way since December when Furman and VMI scared the daylights out of them before going down to defeat. By the time the season was drawing to a close the charges of Fred Schaus were a cool, well poised unit. They relied on a strong bench to bring them through many of their contests and counted on the four previously mentioned attributes to bring them through all of their games.

The young coaching staff of the Mounties is well deserving of the "Brain Trust" tag bestowed upon them. Coach Fred Schaus and his able assistant, George King, are veterans of the pro ranks and taught their boys in pro fashion. The brains werent's limited to the coaches, however. The five men on the floor showed sterling genius at times with their unexpected moves on offense and defense.

There can be no question of the ability of this group of stalwarts. It requires only a glance at the sterling floor play and defense of Retton and Bolyard, the rebounding of Akers and Clousson, the deadly outside shooting of Smith, and the clutch scoring of Ritchie and Patrone to realize that West Virginia is blessed with some of the finest basketball talent in the nation.

In connection with the great ability displayed by the "Nine Iron Men" is their tremendous desire to win. Some of the greatest victories in West Virginia sports history came from this group. It was a never-say-die bunch who refused to fold under pressure and often came from behind in what seemed like a hopeless situation to pull the contest out of the fire. Following the triumphant return of the Mountaineers after placing second in the national NCAA finals, Coach Fred Schaus had this to say of his boys, "These guys are National Heart Champions." This summed up the "heart" part of the story quite well. At times during the long final three weeks of the season the Mountaineers appeared doomed only to stage a great rally and win. They became the "Cinderella Team" of 1959 in the hearts of all their fans. They represented the Silky Sullivans of the basketball world. But unlike their racing counterpart, Jerry West and Co. made a better run for the money than the California colt did.

The other attribute that West Virginia possesses is a great superstar in the person of All-American Jerry West. There are not enough adjectives to describe the play of this roundball genius. Following any of his performances newsmen came forth with superlatives such as "Poetry in motion," "smooth as silk," "flowing grace," "sweet music," "sheer beauty on the hardwoods," and "lissome as a pine sapling." Jerry was honored with the Most Valuable Player tag in every tourney in which he participated and walked off with everyone's All-American honors. One writer summmed things up by saying, 'California took home the NCAA trophy but Jerry West took everything else." Jumpin' Jerry tied the tournament scoring record with 160 points and received the plaudits of everyone present with his great all-around play. After the tourney play had begun Jerry racked up a new W.V.U. scoring record each time one of his soft shots ripped the cords.

There is only one word to describe the roundball season for the Mountaineers. Thanks to the guttiest guys on the hardwoods, especially Jerry West, and the brains of Coaches Fred Schaus and George King that word must be success.

Following is the great 29-5 record of the 1959 Mountaineers:

Baseball

The 1958 version of the Mountaineer baseball squad had its share of wild pitches and errors throughout the campaign but managed to come on strong as the season progressed and wound up with a winning season. "When the dust had risen, and showed what had occurred," the WVU nine put together a 12-11 mark for the University record books. By speaking to Coach Steve Harrick and his cohorts one could not surmise that Florida trips early in the season are beneficial to all baseball teams. The major leagues may benefit from them but the Mountaineers certainly didn't. After returning from the land of sunshine and oranges the WVU nine found they had been very rudely shut out of the Florida State Tournament without a win.

But the season wasn't all gloom for West Virginia. Bucky Bolyard, a refugee from the highly successful basketball team, felt he should continue his winning ways and led the diamond team in batting with an average of .413. Bucky, along with John Goff and sophomore Paul Chuma, did the brunt of the pitching for Coach Harrick. Other individual standouts for the team included Captain Nick Zegrea, Wayne Austin, Ronnie Retton, and Bob Senay.

The Mountaineers, with Retton, Bolyard, Chuma, and starting outfielder Frank Paczewski returning, show great promise for the 1959 season.

Tennis

West Virginia's 1958 tennis team which won four of ten matches during its season can look forward to the return of Sophomore sensation Tim Lyons this year. Lyons started last season as the net teams number five man but ended the year as the number one man as he proved to Coach Ruel Foster he had the ability and the experience necessary to be a top player.

The Golf squad of West Virginia University returned to winning form last spring following the sport's first losing record at WVU in 20 years. Ira Rodgers, in his tenth season as golf coach, directed the Mountaineers to a 5 won, 4 lost, 1 tie record.

Track

The 1958 Mountaineer track team, with a new coach in the person of Stan Romanoski and some great individual performers in the persons of Captain Dave Tork, Ray Peterson, and Chick Sherwood, enjoyed one of their best seasons in many years. The match with Eastern power Penn State provided a fitting climax to the season for the cinder sport lads. Although they didn't win, they held their own in all departments and cheered along with the packed stands as Dave Tork broke his old record for the pole vault. Ray Peterson, Southern Conference champion in the 100 yard dash and prolific scorer in the 220 yard and broad jump events led the team in scoring for the season with hurdler Sherwood right behind him. Tork as usual, had no competition in the Southern Conference pole vault.

Beauty is a way of living at West Virginia University. This is seen in the campus, the students, and in what they create.

Beauty is in their search for perfection in all things. The ways of this search can be seen in the excitement of a Homecoming game, Spring Spree Weekend and Cheat Lake, and the pomp of the Military Ball.

The variety of our campus shows us many ways to appreciate this beauty. In the quiet of a morning mist on Library Terrace, the quiet serenity of Woodburn Circle on a fall afternoon, and in the clean perfection of the Medical Center, we see the beauty of the campus reflected in its students.

Beauty is a casual greeting, a cheerful party, and the moments spent alone. It is a way of living at West Virginia University.

BIBLER SELECTS MONTICOLA QUEEN

November 27, 1958

Miss Joan Bratton
BEAUTIES EDITOR
1959 MONTICOLA

Dear Miss Bratton:

First, please let me thank you for the honor of being asked to judge the Queen for the 1959 MONTICOLA. Not only has it been an honor to judge these beautiful West Virginia University co-eds, but it has been a downright "painful" pleasure! PAINFUL, because of the hours of agony I have gone through in trying to make a decision. Since they are almost all equally beautiful women, I have let their "picture personalities" play a large part in the selection. Not only do I now have less thinning hair on the apex, but I have added a few lumps in the process of knocking my head against the wall while trying to make a decision.

During the past few days, I feel I have gotten to know these beautiful women and their personalities, and I can truthfully say that each has been queen for a period of time during these last few days. For those of you who never agree with the decision of the judge, I've managed to add a snapshot of the ole boy snapped at an unguarded moment. Well, here we go:

THE QUEEN: MISS ORA LEE RUSMISELL
A Queen in every square inch of photography I have seen of her. Miss Rusmisell strikes me as a very intelligent girl. She has the look of a sympathetic listener, a tomboy, a lover of picnics, parties, and I'll bet she enjoys hard study. This co-ed with beautiful hands could be a politician or model. I would throw my best coonskin coat in the mud for her to step on---any time!

THE ATTENDENTS:
MISS EDITH POLING
Another extremely attractive and beautiful girl. I would guess Miss Poling to have a very sparkling, life-of-the-party-type personality. She obviously has a figure to match those beautiful features.

MISS BARBARA MOHRMAN:
Here is a real beauty. A girl with most understanding eyes. I'll bet Miss Mohrman is a very soft-spoken girl who is as popular with the "eds" and the co-eds. She has the kind of face and personality that every man wants to meet at the altar.

MISS BARBARA THAYER
This very attractive girl has beautiful eyes. Unusual features of her face suggest to me my idea of the Betty Co-ed type. My bet is that this personality girl has a date book with a long waiting list.

MISS NANCY LOVE

Last but not least, this beautiful girl was my young son's favorite. I can understand his choice. Her picture looks as though she would be the type who would love children and the type that would love her...the typical red-blooded American college girl type.

MY CONGRATULATIONS TO YOU ALL. I will miss having your pictures on my desk.

Cordially,
Dick Bibler

Our Heritage: The Traditions and Mountaineer

MOUNTAINEER WEEKEND coordinator is Dan Cavanaugh.

The 1958 version of Mountaineer Weekend was touched off by a thuse Friday night before the encounter with Boston University the following day.

This was followed by a variety show at the Music Building auditorium where the five finalists for Mountaineer Weekend queen were announced. A dance at Mountainlair was next with final voting for the queen at intermission.

Saturday found that the students had selected Barbara Romano as their Queen, but Boston proved to be the king as the Terriers defeated the Mountaineers 36-30 in a very exciting game.

The final event of the weekend was the Mountaineer Ball at the 'Lair with the music of Robert Hill and his orchestra.

Homecoming Weekend: We Salute Our Alumni

Crisp, dry weather greeted the weekend of November 7 and 8, ushering in the 1958 Homecoming Weekend which proved full of excitement and color.

On Friday, after a rousing Thursday night thuse, came the annual Homecoming parade with Delta Tau Delta and Delta Gamma carrying off the honors for the best floats.

Saturday found the student body busily entertaining alumni and friends who had come in to visit friends and to see the game. It proved to be quite a contest with underdog West Virginia playing a beautiful game in tying Penn. State 14-14. Much of the credit for this performance was given to quarterback Dick Longfellow, halfback Mel Reight and the entire defensive unit.

Halftime ceremonies were impressive with a host of awards being presented and Edith Poling crowned Homecoming queen. Miss Poling was presented flowers by Governor Cecil Underwood.

The weekend was topped off by a Saturday night dance at Mountainlair.

The Delta Tau Deltas came through this year with first prize for their beautiful float.

Our Weekend: A Spring Spree For the Students

Spring Spree Weekend is an event that is designed entirely for the students.

The two main features of the weekend are a lawn concert, at which the finalists in the Lord and Lad of Spring Contest are announced and a jitterbug contest is held, and an informal dance that same Saturday night at Mountainlair when the finals of the jitterbug contest are held and the winners in the Lord and Lady of Spring contest are announced.

In charge of refreshments for the "Relax and Go to Cheat Weekend" are the members of Helvetia, sophomore men's honorary.

Coordinating 1959 Springspree Weekend is Scrappy Cox.

Second places went to Kappa Alpha for trying to get into Heaven for the Judgement Day Sing; to Sigma Nu for their masterful adaptation of the old calypso favorite, "The Sloop John B"; and to Chi Omega for a light puppet dance, "No Strings Attached."

Third Places went to Alpha Xi Delta for their precision dance routine, performing to, "I'm Gonna Sit Right Down And Write Myself A Letter" and "Steppin' Out With My Baby"; and to Kappa Sigma for a song fest starting out with "Sh . . . Boom."

James Rogerson, a masterful master of ceremonies, kept the show moving with jokes and his ukulele.

With the coming of adult responsibilities and privileges comes an experience that will have a lasting effect on all who take the emblems of a fraternity or sorority.

This experience, through a fraternal organization, is one that makes demands on an individual's time, patience, and finances. Yet, with all of the demands made by the group, the individual member is the one who gains the most. For, with all he gives, what he receives will stay with him for a lifetime.

In this lasting bond of his affiliations no other will be as revered for in it is a part of him.

To keep their golden anchor shining,
Enjoying now with modest cheers
Honors, pins, grades, (regular Mountaineers).

They won the Sphinx talent cup,
Retired it in their trophy case,
And turned their thoughts to next year's race.

Gamma Phi Beta

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1874
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1958

The newest addition to our regal society
Was brought in with much pomp and propriety,
Making themselves known in course
With more than forty in their force.

Coming from New York State,
This is their most recent aggregrate,
Finding good response in the student faction
Has made them reply with plenty of action.

With Sandy and Bonazzo working on the paper
They record every caper
Finding themselves socially prominent,
Fraternities, were of course dominant.

Keeping correspondence handy
Is recorder Martha Sandy,
And in the role of steering
Shirley Wilson is appearing.

Kappa Delta

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1897
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1950

Wearing the colors of white and pearl grey,
Kappa Delta from Longwood College came here to stay
With the idea of capturing back this confederate post
From their neighoring Yankee hosts.

With a second place in the Mother's Day sing
They have given the campus a ring;
While in spring their formal (Mr. Esquire)
Sets many hearts on fire.

Keeping active with present times
Is Libby Lilly of Chimes,
And a Miss about Homecoming who had a word to say
Was the editor of the booklet, Joan Cordray.

Financier of the group was Ila Rae Cobb,
Who had a bank or two to rob,
For a crimp in a group's finances
Will slow a club's advances.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1870
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1906

From the campus of Monmouth College
Founded for the sake of fun and knowledge
Came the society of Fleur-de-lis,
Knitting stockings to cover knees.

Between stitches the local members
Stoke the fire of scholarship embers,
Plus a second-place Homecoming float
Over which they surely may gloat.

Burchinal, Pettrey and Sayre
Made known they're there;
Cheerleader Schwegler leads the crowds at night
And trys to instil in them some fight.

Being led by Miss Emily Kay
The local group meets each day
Singing, "I'm so happy that I 'amma'
Kappa, Kappa, Kappa, Gamma."

Pi Beta Phi

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1867
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1918

Reserved for two large white pillars,
The color of flour from the millers,
Rest the sisters of Chi
Called Pi Beta Phi.

Safe in their new annex,
On the law building's bricks they put a hex;
Future University construction is forbidden
Unless the materials can be hidden.

Prospering under the sign of the arrow
Are many students of the late Clarence Darrow;
Active on campus are Misses Brawley, Bratton, Sell,
And Scotty Mackenzie is doing well.

Keeping watch on the money
To pay for bread and honey
Is a Miss by the name of Cox,
Who with books is wise as a fox.

Council

Pledge Panhellenic entertains the faculty children with a Christmas party.

Woman's Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of a junior and senior representative from each national sorority on campus with its main purpose to regulate rushing and to promote greater cooperation between sororities.

The Council also sponsors a Junior Council composed of two pledges from each of the ten campus sororities.

The largest function of the year for the organization is the coordination, with the cooperation of Inter-Fraternity Council, of Greek Weekend.

In addition to the planning of these events the Council sponsors exchange dinners, trophies for both best pledge class and best sorority grades, and publishes a rush week pamphlet.

PANHELLENIC OFFICERS: Mildred Jackson, vice president; Joyce Hanna, treasurer; Mary Sue Gilkeson, president; Libby Lilly, secretary.

A highlight of the holiday season is the Christmas serenades sponsored by I.F.C.

Inter-Fraternity

Everyone is pleased as Miss Harriett Danley is crowned queen of the 1959 Pledge Hop.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of two members from each social fraternity on campus. Its purpose is to regulate all inter-fraternal activities and to solve problems common to them as a group. Included in the activities are the Men's Panhellenic Dance, United Fund Drive in fraternities, Christmas Serenade, Rush Week, Initiation Week, Bridge and Debate tournaments, and giving blankets to senior basketball players.

Along with Greek Weekend the Inter-Fraternity Council also sponsors the Pledge President's Council organized to develop better relations between fraternities. The Pledge Council sponsored and organized a "Pledge Hop" this year.

Alpha Gamma Rho

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1908
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1924

Founded on two campuses in 1908
Alpha Gamma Rho has continued to migrate;
Starting at Ohio State and the University of Illinois,
They have turned into a good bunch of green mountain boys.

Proving that greens are good for you
Is what the A G R's do.
For in the five years past
They have always been atop the scholarship mast.

Helping in the hectic campus race
By adding their names to the vicious pace,
Fi Batars Davis and Laing keep in tune,
Turning seeds with a spoon.

President this year is Charles D. Cole,
While Ronald Walker gives out the dole.
Cunningham handles the VICE
And Bunter writes things that are nice.

Alpha Phi Delta

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1914
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1923

In 1914 at the University of Syracuse
Came the most startling news
That during the school year
Alpha Phi Delta did appear.

Under the banner of purple and white,
They worked their way up Spruce each winter night,
Finding the task no less amusing
Than the portion of the anatomy they were bruising.

With their spread from station to station
They can be noted by a white carnation;
Armed with this and nothing more,
They paid for and installed a new door.

With all this strenuous work behind,
The plotting was given to the master mind,
And holding it shut with pride.
President Kniska keeps them inside.

Alpha Sigma Phi

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1845
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1932

Across the lot from the Book Exchange
Is a fraternity (not a grange)
Alpha Sigma Phi by name
Nationally in 1845 became

Instilled with regal might
To Morgantown they did fight
Arriving here in 1932,
Giving Willey Street a new hue.

Most active is that fellow
By the name of Cavallo
Being in Sphinx and I.F.C.
Keeps him busy as can be.

Lighting the local burner
Is a man named Turner
Who writes many nights
Of the Alpha Sig's and their plights.

Beta Theta Pi

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1839
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1900

When one day the sun was pink and blue,
One founder said to another, "this'll do,"
And with majesty that was great,
Beta Theta Pi they did initiate.

Their founding in our hills
Came in 1900 with many frills,
And with this the City of Morgantown became
The town beneath the Beta frame.

Constantly active in this college,
They get more than knowledge;
Being proficient in many sports
And many other games of sorts.

All this is paid for by Robert Pinnell
Who reportedly gives them . . .
And it is said that the Beta Barn Party rates
Complete with brothers, livestock, and dates.

Delta Tau Delta

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1859
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1900

The only national to be founded in this state
Finds Delta Tau Delta the lone inmate.
Founded at Bethany near the Ohio River,
They are said to be of stout mind and liver.

Always singing with best intention,
They were tops at the National Convention.
Also excelling in basketball
They practice way into the fall.

A little boy, Johnny Bucy by name,
Rose this year to Fi Batar Cappar fame
And jumping Johnny Barille
Still gives the campus a thrill.

Kappa Alpha

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1865
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1898

From the gallant men of Robert E. Lee
The Kappa Alpha Order came to be.
This fact is relived each year,
When the time for Old South is here.

Many men who are Fi Batar
Represent them at the Alma Mater,
And this year just past
Sophomore class president was Tom Arbogast.

Barbershop Harmony is in their talk
Winning the Sphinx Talent Show in a walk,
And keeping up their winning pace
On Mother's Day with a third place.

A renewal of the war is in order
With the people on their border;
Last spring with all available men
Proved "The South shall rise again!"

Kappa Sigma

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1869
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1918

The wearers of the scarlet, white, and green
Are everywhere on campus to be seen;
Located at the end of Belmar,
Their house can be seen from afar.

For them the coming of last year
Gave them much to cheer:
Third in the all-year cup and second on Mother's Day,
They really had a big say.

Campus wheels include John King,
Who leads the Mountainlair ring,
And Ted Baker whose work on the Military Ball
Was enjoyed by all.

Scribe of the group is named Walker,
Who is famed to be quite a talker.
With pencil in hand he steathily seeks
To write all the records he keeps.

Lambda Chi Alpha

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1909
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1953

A member of the largest national,
Not to get irrational,
The Lambda Chi's
Have much to surmise.

Put on the campus in 1953,
They look for a future spree.
Voted most improved in '56
They are learning new tricks.

Most enjoyable is a party for Hoboes
Where all come dressed in toeless hose.
One bright spot in their growing crew
Is Terry Fairbanks (a campus well-to-do).

Money is kept by a man named Smith
Who is said to think books a myth,
But under Mankowski, the president,
They use every cent.

Phi Delta Theta

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1848
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1927

West Virginia Alpha of Phi Delta Theta
Located on Belmar next to Beta
Has a large national
And truly fashionable.

Bob Allen as the Mountaineer
Gave local fans much to cheer;
And the She Delta Theta Party
Is seemingly most hearty.

Athletically known, so to speak,
The local Phi Delta had their week;
Being champions of Upsilon province bold,
Basketball is in their blood-like mold.

Led by a Humphries named John
Who is indeed put upon,
They may yet initiate

Phi Kappa Psi

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1852
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1890

With the advent of colors light
Came the image of pillars white
From Jefferson College in Pa.,
And now they have a very prominent say.

Poised and prominent they never lag,
And always fly the goose flag,
Though the brothers in the bigger din
Think the flag quite a sin.

With many wheels, including Bowman,
They never lack a showman;
And Terry Gribble when inspired
Has been all the club desired.

Under the rule of George Kincaid,
Many plans have been made
So that the 1958 King of Hearts
Will have a role in future parts.

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1850
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1896

In the city of Brotherly Love
Founded under the auspices of the Dove
Was Phi Kappa Sigma
With the crossbones as their insignia

Finding the campus in 1896
Thy have been up to various tricks
And with a formal like the Black and Gold
Memories never grow old.

With pledge president Terry Shorr,
The club makes continued war
Keeping pledges in a bag,
And waving the jolly rodger as their flag.

Phi Sigma Delta

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1909
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1927

Out of the local called Mu Delta Mu
Came a group that was really new;
Founded at Columbia in 1909
Upsilon Chapter is our part of the vine.

Campus men are they, and fine,
Led by Carp, Joel, Lurie, and Beer-stein.
Also on their calendar of events
Is a party that calls for sleeping in tents.

Many affairs are had by these lads,
With a Thanksgiving party among their fads;
Springtime brings their formal dance,
Coming in April, making it and midwinter prance.

Responsibilities center about many in the club
Making activity a lively hubbub.
Carp, Lurie and Kerstein
Help keep industry running in this time.

Phi Sigma Kappa

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1873
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1891

On a dorm in Yankee land
Is a record of this clan;
Six young men in 1873
Decided Phi Sigma Kappa would be.

Finding the campus in 1891,
It's the University's second oldest one;
Being best in its national
Keeps the local brothers rational.

With the guidance of Zegrea and Bird,
The local Phi Sigma Kappas are heard
This year partying like a Viking
For a weekend took to their liking.

With an all-unanimous "Aye,"
Zegrea was president at 672 North High;
And keeping pledges in their places
Were Bird and Ogburn carrying maces.

Pi Kappa Alpha

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1868
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1904

In March of 1863
Came news of something great,
Giving Greeks a wider fame
Called Pi Kappa Alpha by name.

On the ears of people this year fell
The ringing of the Pi Kappa Alpha bell;
Save for absence to a degree,
The bell is there for all to see.

With a cadet colonel and veep of I.F.C.
They march on campus for all to see;
In the band or on the field
Their marching charge will never yield.

Supplied with money by Kent Myers
The group keeps supplied with pliers,
With Wetzel as president and Simmons as vice,
The club is run cool as ice.

Pi Lambda Phi

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1895
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1922

In the boisterous year of 1895
From the land of college jive
Came a society which was famed,
And thus Pi Lambda Phi was named.

Wrapped in blankets of violet and gold,
The local brothers are never cold;
And what could be more mindful of knowledge
Than to live on a street by the name of College?

Active on campus is Michael Bear
Who runs around everywhere,
And also having much bearing
Is jumping David Herring.

President of this years pledges
Who are rapped with mace and sledges
Is a Carlin, Robert L.
Who always gives them (colloquialism for hades)

Sigma Chi

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1855
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1895

Founded in Ohio at Miami "U"
Were the Sigs called Mu Mu;
One of the members of fraternity row
They came here long ago.

Decoration for Sadie Hawkins this year
Caused many a loyal Sig to fear
That the girls would have their way
And all brothers would be hooked to stay.

Having three members in Mountain
Is quite a knowledge fountain,
And Howard Lewis, editor of the Daily A.,
On campus has quite a big say.

Repeating his role from last year
And keeping money to him near
Is Dennis Clarke the economizer,
A year older and a year wiser.

Sigma Nu

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1869
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1904

In a house, recently new
Rest the men of Sigma Nu
Walking every day from afar
From the heights of Belmar.

Winning, Winning, always winning,
Kept the local heads spinning
Taking first place in the Sing
And putting the All year Cup
under their wing—

Pledges are lead by Marshall Oman
Who is quite a showman
Known as an end man for Fi Batar
In the Minstral at our Alma Matar.

Under the hand of Commander Bright
The locals creep into the night
Keeping in shape we hear
For spring water battles this year.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1901
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1903

Spread throughout the south of our land
By many a helping hand
The doors, the color of red
Are not bars, but Sig Eps instead.

Their party by the name of Pig Alley
Is said to be the wildest in the Valley,
And the Golden Heart Ball
Is claimed to be the best of them all.

One tradition never broken
Deals with winter it is spoken,
With the coming of the snowfall
The Pi Phi's get a snowball.

Keeping the brothers on their jobs
Is master president Robert Hobbs,
And keeping brothers broke and rantin'
Is comptroller Patrick Stanton.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

■ FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1899
■ FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1923

Rho Chapter of our Tekes
Arrived on our campus in cold winter weeks;
Now in a new house on Spruce
They are prepared to pluck the campus goose.

With parties like the Bowery Ball and Shipwreck
They are said to raise a little heck,
But floats and athletics are their fame
Playing a lot at the softball game.

Their formal is said to be a great boom,
(Coming in the month of June)
To climax senior graduation
And start on a much needed vacation.

President Richard J. Sestak heads the way
While Dean Spencer collects the pay;
And nothing kept the pledges saner
Than Richard Fontanesi as their trainer.

Theta Chi

- FOUNDED NATIONALLY 1856
- FOUNDED AT W.V.U. 1949

With the day of April in 1949
When 'twas said the sun did shine
Came the men of Theta Chi
To rest under our sky.

Keeping local courage up
The locals won the Class B Cup,
And helping to make them great
They won the I.F.C. debate.

With parties like Halloween and Hobo
their spirits are never low
And with the special scholarship money
They give out plenty of bread and honey.

Keeping Theta Chi on its pace
Is Wilson Williams leading the race
And James Shaffer in charge of VICE
Always comes up with something nice.

Community Service: Cooperation and Enjoyment

The creation of Greek Weekend on the West Virginia University campus came in 1956. Since then, the Inter-Fraternity Council and the Panhellenic Council have combined their efforts to produce a well organized weekend.

This year the weekend started with a rock 'n roll concert at the VFW. Saturday saw many work projects undertaken by members of fraternities and sororities to help cement relations between the student body and the citizens of Morgantown.

The final event of the weekend was the Men's Pan featuring the music of Billy May under the direction of Sam Donahue.

This weekend, with its handling this year, has shown that it will be greatly anticipated in the future.

To organize has been a notation of Man's success or failure. At West Virginia University the purpose of any organization is to better itself and its individuals through interest and enthusiasm in working toward a common goal.

In this section many of the organizations which have played a part in the lives of the students are represented. This section is dedicated to their efforts to make the world better in some way than it was before.

This is only another means by which a university trains its students. This is the way of West Virginia University.

Cavaliers

After its founding at Marshall College, Cavaliers, composed of campus non-affiliated men, was introduced to the West Virginia University campus in 1957.

Since their founding the Cavaliers have perpetuated the ideals of the group in parties and the much noted Graduate Smoker.

The organization continues to grow in membership and proposes to buy a house in the near future.

Life Week:

We review our motives

Life Week, with a theme this year of "Student Ethics on the Campus and in the Outside World," is a time set aside for students to analyze their lives. This three-day program is sponsored annually by the YWCA and the YMCA. Such controversial topics as "Cheating on College Campuses Today," and "Is Chastity Outdated?" were discussed by the five speakers, all of whom were former students at the University.

A combination of lectures, seminars, discussion groups, and a convocation, Life Week stresses wholesome living and the religious aspects of college life.

Our faiths, believing is living

Though it has been inferred that a college society in our country has no place for the church, the students of our University know that their faith is the basis for a good life.

Military, in defense of a way of life

The Military Departments of West Virginia University provide the student with an opportunity to serve the country as a commissioned officer. This opportunity belongs to the student because he is the only one who may decide the value of his military service.

The ROTC Honor Guard adds a touch of color to noon formations and parades.

of the Military

One of the most colorful social events of the year, the Military Ball, was forced to compete with the Basketball team for honors on the same night this year.

Couples danced to the music of Buddy Morrow and watched the NCAA finals between West Virginia and California on three television sets placed throughout Mountainlair.

Barbara Benbow and Pat Donnelly were named to Queen Edith Poling's court and the Perishing Rifles performed at intermission.

Miss Poling receives the traditional kiss as onlookers smile appreciatively.

ARMY ROTC Capt. Raymond E. Johnson, Major George A. Carleton, Lt. Col. Reynolds R. Keleher, Capt. Francis X. Gabriel, Major Harvey H. Hartwig, Capt. Hugh H. Jones.

Military training began at the University in 1867 as a result of the Morrill Act of 1862 stating that a course in Military Science be included in the curriculum of any land grant college.

The training received by cadets in this program is designed to give them a general course in military procedure leading to assignment to either combat arms or technical services.

The completion of the four year term qualifies the student to receive a commission as a second lieutenant with the Regular Army units under one of several options available to the student.

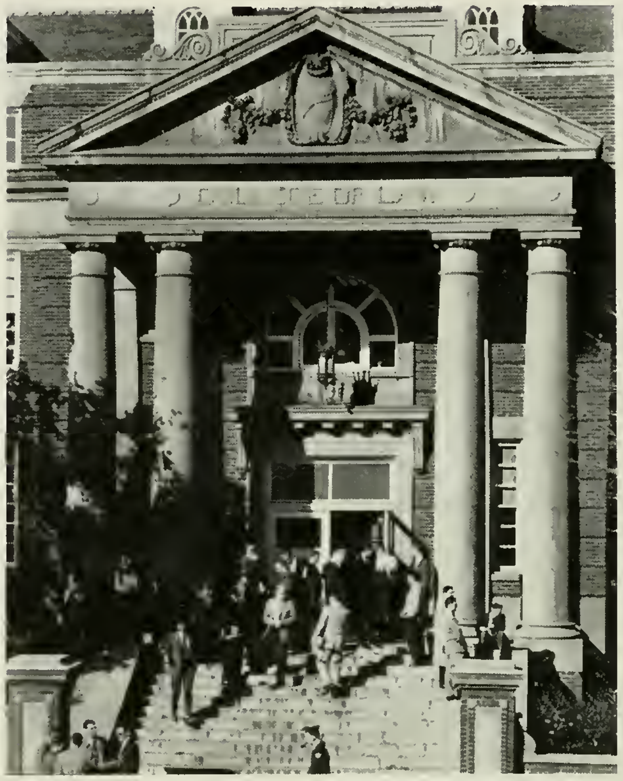
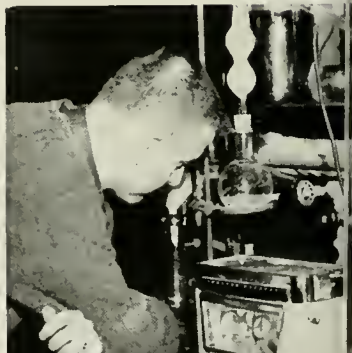
Knowledge: Our Goal





Present and Future

For each individual who searches for knowledge there must be a set of tools with which to probe into the darkness of the unknown. As a man earns these tools he also learns how to use them, and therefore the better he learns the higher he can rise.

Here, then, is the place where man's mind is sharpened. In the dusty corridors of Woodburn, the dignity of the Law School and in the preciseness of the Medical School are the means to improve Man's mind.

To live and grow for the students is the function of a university. Thus, West Virginia University grows, and we, the students, grow with it.

The University Library: where, in the four years spent at the University, each student is exposed to a wide range of knowledge—his for the taking.

Acknowledgment

The success of a yearbook is measured, not in its immediate popularity, but in its power to recall in the future the events and people of a given year. It should be a personal record, with the ability to reconstruct all the good times, the big and little incidents that made this particular year outstanding. This has been the aim of the 1959 MONTICOLA Staff.

However, it has been only with the aid and advice of many that we have been able to submit to you what we feel is a successful 1959 MONTICOLA. We here would like to make acknowledgment for their services. Since it would be impossible to enumerate these many services, we shall restrict ourselves to mentioning their names and expressing our thanks.

Dr. Patrick Gainer, MONTICOLA Advisor
Ralph Langreck, Benson Printing Company
Raymond Gallman, Fraternal Composite, Inc.
Richard Bibler, 1959 MONTICOLA Queen Judge
Henry Collins, MONTICOLA Legal Advisor

Ever meet a Doubting Thomas?

A college senior once remarked to a Bell System interviewer: "A telephone career must be a mirage. I hear talk about fabulous training, fascinating work, grade-A job security, and rapid advancement in management. Sounds a bit too rosy. What's the real story?"

The interviewer knew mere talk wouldn't sell a skeptic. So he showed him some "profiles" of recent college graduates who had enjoyed that fabulous training, had worked at intriguing jobs, and had won early management promotions.

Our once-skeptical friend has been with the Bell System 3 years now—and is currently supervising the work of 55 other telephone people.

We've converted a host of Doubting Thomases. Whether doubtful or not, you'll learn a lot about rewarding telephone careers by talking with our interviewer when he visits your campus. Also read the Bell Telephone booklet on file in your Placement Office.

COMMENCEMENT

Perhaps you have been thinking of this occasion for some time. Graduation is only the beginning of a brighter future. We hope that it is a "commencement" of greater things to come.

In America we enjoy the world's highest standard of living. If we are to continue to enjoy these benefits, we must have better trained men and women. We need more scientists; more trained engineers; and better qualified people in all walks of life. It's your future — use it wisely.
